Clients Served: The SPCR agency serves Wyoming citizens, out-of-state visitors and inquiries, local, county and state governments and agencies, public schools and institutions of higher education, Wyoming nonprofit organizations and Wyoming businesses.

Budget Information/Expenditures for FY19: The total biennial budget for the department for 2019/2020 is $53,802,339, of which $31,612,673 are general funds. The Department’s budget accounts for less than 1.0% of the state’s overall General Fund budget. The department expended $24,957,315 during Fiscal Year 2019 (July 1, 2018 thru June 30, 2019) consisting of $16,490,973 general funds, $2,696,015 federal funds and $5,770,327 other funds.

Commission: SPCR accomplishes its mission in consultation with the Wyoming State Parks & Cultural Resources Commission, a nine-member advisory body representing seven geographically appointed districts with two additional at-large members. The commission meets quarterly and additionally as needed. SPCR has five additional boards/councils that assist individual programs, including; State Trails Council, Wyoming Arts Council, Wyoming Cultural Trust Fund Board, State Historic Records Advisory Board and National Register of Historic Places.

Economic Impact: Based on previous economic impact studies, Wyoming State Parks, Historic Sites & Trails has a cumulative economic annual impact of $469 million, $20 million in state and local tax revenue, and supports 3,891 jobs. Per the Outdoor Industry Association, Wyoming’s Outdoor Recreation industry generates $5.6 billion in annual consumer spending, $1.6 billion in wages and salaries, $514 million in state and local tax revenue, and is directly responsible for 50,000 jobs. Cultural Resource grant awards in FY19 totaled $1,554,889 dollars and these funds went to every county in the State. Almost all of the grant funds awarded require a one-to-one match and generate matching local investments. Many of these grants generate full or part time employment opportunities across the state and contribute to tourism statewide and local economic development efforts.

Core Business/Primary Functions: The Department of State Parks and Cultural Resources consists of 161 full-time positions and 88 part-time positions (11 permanent part-time, and 77 seasonal positions). The Department consists of three areas shown below along with their primary functions:

Contribution to Wyoming Quality of Life: Wyoming’s residents and visitors enjoy more enriched and well-rounded lives because the Department provides memorable opportunities to learn about and enjoy Wyoming’s arts, parks, history, culture and outdoor recreation through a combination of responsible recreation, preservation, education, outreach, planning, granting, conservation, construction, maintenance, public safety, economic impact and development.

Performance Measures/Major Accomplishments of FY19: SPCR undertook the formal process of developing a new overall strategic plan in 2017 to provide a guide for accomplishing the Department’s priorities over the next three years. With this new strategic plan in place, our annual report has been modified to reflect these updates. Below are the five measurements used to gauge performance. To view overall agency strategic plan, balanced scorecard, and previous annual reports, please refer to http://wyospcr.state.wy.us

Mission: We provide memorable recreational, cultural and educational opportunities and experiences to improve communities and enrich lives.

“Improve Communities and Enrich Lives”

Vision: Provide the best opportunities and experiences in the Nation.

Performance Measure #1: Improve Impact and Contribute to the State’s Economic Diversification: Expand and enhance the Agency’s ability to directly/indirectly support jobs, attract businesses and generate revenue for the State of Wyoming and its communities.

Division of State Parks, Historic Sites, Trails and Outdoor Recreation Office:
- As shown in the above economic impact numbers, we continue to impact communities in which we serve. With the addition of the OREC office, the impact of this industry is significant. We are working to take it to a $10 billion industry by implementing the recommendations of the Governor’s Task Force on Outdoor Recreation.
- We have had another banner year. In 2018, SPHS&T served over 4.3 million visitors, which is 136,000 or 3% more than the previous year. This is up 6% from the five year average.
- Division issued nine Land and Water Conservation Fund grants totaling $1,366,221, 17...
Recreation Trails Program grants totaling $1,731,236 and 60 OHV Partnership grants totaling $1,148,284. All funds went to local communities, and state/federal agency partners.

- The OREC office has been the point of contact for five outdoor recreation businesses looking to relocate or expand in WY. The OREC office is working closely with the Wyoming Business Council and local economic development agencies to build relationships and put forth proposals and plans to make these moves come to fruition.

- Over the last two snowmobile seasons we have seen a steady revenue increase of 10% each year. This mostly consists of non-resident and commercial snowmobile user fee sales. This has contributed to an addition of $150,000 of revenue each of those years.

- Both in and outside of Wyoming, the OREC office gave over 50 presentations regarding what Wyoming has to offer for businesses, tourism, and outdoor recreation opportunities. This included dozens of interviews with media.

- State Parks, Historic Sites and Trails, in conjunction with the OREC office, provided support and assistance to numerous outdoor businesses and nonprofits to coordinate, execute and promote dozens of statewide events including the WY State Capitol Open House Celebration, Wyoming Outdoor Expo, and the Wyoming Governor’s Magpul Shooting Match.

- The OREC office continues to facilitate and support the Bighorn Basin Outdoor Recreation Collaborative. This diverse group of community leaders, local businesses, non-profits, and outdoor interest groups work together to promote, enhance, and develop sustainable outdoor recreation for the economic benefit and personal well-being in the Basin. The Collaborative is developing a strategic plan emphasizing outdoor recreation as a valuable economic contributor.

- The OREC office participated in a United States Forest Service Chief’s Review of Region two.

Division of Cultural Resources:

- Wyoming State Historic Preservation Office:
  - In FY19, the office awarded ten grants totalling $80,845 to the cities of Cheyenne, Green River, and Kemmerer, as well as Albany, Fremont, Teton, and Weston Counties in support of historic preservation activities including preservation plans, petroglyph survey, training, a Carnegie Library Structural Evaluation, architectural assistance, and restoration work on Cheyenne’s Historic Airport Fountain.
  - Staff reviewed Historic Architectural Assistance Fund proposals in the communities of Rawlins, Casper, Evanston, Laramie, Greybull, Thermopolis, and Guernsey. SHPO attended and presented at the Main Street Placemaking Conference and training in Evanston on September 20, 2018.
  - Staff worked with property owners to promote the use of tax credits in the state. The part 3 application for the King Brothers Ranch in Albany County and the part 1 application for Colter’s Lodge in Lincoln County were approved by the National Park Service.
  - SHPO staff helped to organize the Archaeology Fair in Laramie that had 90 volunteers running booths and assisting visitors and over 1,100 people in attendance.

- Wyoming State Archives:
  - The State Historical Records Advisory Board (via a grant from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission) funded three awards totaling $6,271.11. Projects representing three Wyoming communities included digitizing stereographs of Yellowstone, making accessible historic newspaper photographs from Jackson, and organizing photographs at the Cheyenne Frontier Days Museum for research and display.
○ The State Archives reading room hosted nearly 800 visits from landmen researching the ownership of land and mineral rights to property across Wyoming. They determined the feasibility of land acquisition and minerals exploration, searching through county land ownership records (434 visits) and probate court files (approximately 355 visits). Their work also helps to insure mineral royalties from development are distributed to the correct individuals.

○ Illustrating how heritage tourism benefits our state, 83 visitors to the State Archives (22 Wyomingites from outside Cheyenne, 61 from other states) planned their trips to Cheyenne around family history research; they looked at land records and photographs, as well as vital records. We are working with the Public Information Office to produce short video spots highlighting some of our frequent users speaking about what draws them to our resources.

○ The Wyoming State Archives is primarily a cost-saving unit, rather than a revenue-generating one. We provide certified copies of high school transcripts allowing Wyomingites efficient and lower cost access to the credentials they need to continue their education or apply for jobs and professional licenses. The Records Management unit supervised the destruction of 3,168 cubic feet of paper and 1,802 digital state agency non-permanent records which had passed their approved retention periods, saving storage costs assessed by A&I or ETS to each agency. In addition, the Records Center provided lower cost storage for these records than agency office space. The Digital Archives saves staff time across state government, and counties who wish to participate, by providing a centralized records storage location and research/reference services, freeing up agency staff from these time consuming duties.

● Wyoming Arts Council:
○ The Arts Council granted $917,720 to 187 nonprofit organizations, individuals for professional development and career advancement, and municipalities.

○ Working with partners, the Arts Council created the 2019 Wyoming Road Trip playlist. This playlist of juried Wyoming artists was distributed to tourists through the visitor centers and via online streaming apps. This playlist has allowed individual artists to see an increase of over 300% online streaming activities as well as an increase in name recognition.

○ In partnership with the State Parks, the Arts Council created and hosted Plein Air in the Parks. This was a three day event in Sinks Canyon State Park where visual arts created 2-D work that was then for sale to the public.

○ The Wyoming Independent Music Initiative partnered with the Levitt Foundation in Denver to have Wyoming musicians perform with major touring acts to help build audiences and experiences for musicians.

● Wyoming State Museum:
○ The Wyoming State Museum continued to update exhibits and renovate galleries to conform to ADA and national interpretation standards. This year saw the addition of digital and interactive components in the museum and several collaborations with outside agencies which resulted in the creation of the following new exhibits, programs, and interpretive materials:
  ■ Journey Through Yellowstone (Digital exhibit)
  ■ Basque Sheepherders (Audio interactive, developed through University of Wyoming internship)
- Ice Patch Archeology (Exhibit and lecture, collaboration with Wyoming State Archeologist and the Institute of Arctic and Alpine Research)
- The Wyoming Tapiromorph (Exhibit and two lectures, collaboration with the Wyoming State Geological Survey and University of Wyoming Geological Museum)
- Capitol Renovations (Exhibit)
- Capitol Square Project (Exhibits and tour book, collaboration with Legislative Services Office)
- The museum provided free traveling exhibits to nine institutions in two states.

- Office of the Wyoming State Archaeologist:
  - The office participated in public and professional training and gave presentations related to the understanding of how archaeological resources in the State contribute to the overall economic diversification of Wyoming through tourism.
  - The office hosted the Archaeology Fair at the Wyoming Territorial Prison in Laramie and had over 1,100 attendees.

- Wyoming Cultural Trust Fund:
  - In FY19, grant awards reached 39 organizations in 18 communities in Wyoming, assisting with a wide variety of cultural and preservation activities.
  - FY19 grants directly supported 12.28 FTE (full-time equivalent) positions in cultural organizations and programming throughout Wyoming.

Performance Measure #2: Serve and Educate our Customers and Constituents: Provide high quality customer service, facilities, opportunities, experiences, educational resources, outreach and public safety for our customers/constituents.

Division of State Parks, Historic Sites and Trails and Outdoor Recreation Office:

- In response to external customer demand, the Division continues to improve the offering of campsite reservation sites in our system. We also effectively oversee 65+ special/short-term permits, 53 cabin leases, six cooperative agreements, 19 easements, 12 friend's agreements, five grazing leases, seven long-term concessions, 23 leases, nine MOU's and 170+ selling agent contracts.
- With the Passage of the E-bike legislation (SF81), the Division quickly worked on a rules change and now is allowing Type 1 E-bikes on our non-motorized trails. The division is also piloting an experiment to look at the effects of Type 2 on State Parks trails with the possibility of allowing Type 2 E-bikes on some trails.
- State Parks, Historic Sites & Trails has created downloadable maps of snowmobile and ORV trails. In FY 19, over 79,000 snowmobile and ORV maps were downloaded by customers.
- In partnership with Wyoming Game and Fish and the Casper Area Convention And Visitors Bureau, State Parks staff helped organize and host the Wyoming Outdoor Expo. SPHS&T staff worked over 600 working hours, serving close to 6,400 Expo participants. 3,257 of those participants were students and their chaperones from 57 Wyoming schools.
- In an effort to mitigate the effects of reduced budgets, the department continues to foster a comprehensive, robust volunteer program. From July 1, 2018, through June 30, 2019, volunteers donated 23,148 hours to Wyoming State Parks, Historic Sites and Trails. This donation is equivalent to 17 full-time employees. In conjunction with site staff, the Wyoming Conservation Corps (WCC) and the Veterans Trail Crew worked on a multitude of projects in parks from trail maintenance and trail creation, painting and maintenance of historic facilities, and pine bark beetle mitigation.

- Our staff have done an amazing job in hosting fun, innovative and educational programming for the public. The popularity and participation in these programs continue to grow. The Division continues to participate in the Capitol Campout Program for Great Outdoors Month. This year’s State Parks Summer Campout was held in June. We taught a group of 32 people how to camp in tents, cook food outdoors and have fun under the beautiful Wyoming night sky. At Fort Bridger alone 665 participants participated in the July 4th Kids eXtreme event.

- The Division continues to participate in the “Every Kid In A Park” program. This program mirrors a national Department of the Interior program established during the National Park Services 100th year. It allows all Wyoming 4th grade students, and their families, to enter a park or historic site for free.

- In 2019, for the first time in ten years, increases to visitor fees were implemented. The Division will continue to monitor the impact of these increases in the years ahead.

- Staff developed, administered and completed several projects paid for by funds derived from entrance and camping fees including: new docks at Seminoe State Park, the opening of the 1868 English Tunnel at South Pass City State Historic Site, four new miles of trail at Fort Phil Kearny Historic Site, a new shower house at Keyhole State Park, and helped support an archery range at Glendo State Park. These projects and added amenities help market our facilities, which boost local economic impact and provides sustainability in additional revenue for future construction projects.

- Programming highlights the last year were a new movie on the water at Guernsey State Park, school tours that helped thousands of Wyoming students understand their state’s history, a new youth archery competition at Glendo State Park, a historical cooking program at Fort Steele, new bus tours at Fort Phil Kearny, 28,794 people attending Rendezvous at Fort Bridger, kid’s science night every other week at Sinks Canyon State Park, and with support from the Curt Gowdy Foundation, new programming for at-risk youth at Curt Gowdy State Park.

- The Division renews their efforts to inform our visitors about how the money from park fees is used. Tools, such as social media and signage, helped relay the message that 100% of revenue collected through visitor fees goes to State Parks and Historic Sites to fund new construction, improvement projects, site interpretation and maintenance.

Division of Cultural Resources:

- Wyoming State Historic Preservation Office:
  - The office worked to improve communication with our preservation partners throughout Wyoming. We met with the Alliance for Historic Wyoming, advocacy groups, and multiple local governments.
  - Held annual meetings with the USFS, BLM, and NRCS.
  - Staff organized the Archaeology Fair in Laramie that had 90 volunteers running booths and assisting visitors and over 1,100 people in attendance.
  - The Governor signed a proclamation declaring September Wyoming Archaeology Awareness Month, and 5,000 posters were produced and distributed.
  - Staff helped organize the 20th Annual George C. Frison Institute of Archaeology and Anthropology and WAAM sponsored lecture held at the University of Wyoming in Laramie.
○ We hosted the Centennial Farm & Ranch celebration in conjunction with the Wyoming State Fair on August 11, 2018. The ceremony was well attended by centennial families, the congressional delegation, and state elected officials.

○ Staff developed Historic Preservation 101 training for realtors and appraisers. Trainings were held in Evanston, Wheatland, Gillette, and Cheyenne.

○ The office continues adding new National Register of Historic Places-related photos to the web-based photo database LUNA. Over 1,000 were added in the past year and are available on the WYSHPO website for researchers and the general public.

○ The office provided training to the Wyoming County Commissioners Association on coordinating Section 106 of the NHPA with NEPA.

● Wyoming State Archives:

○ The Wyoming Digital Archives now includes 806,753 documents in its database and serves 163 licensed users, eighteen state agencies and ten county agencies. We mounted an introductory video on our website and provided it to 40 agency staff. It began to live up to its records management promise with the destruction of 1,802 digital documents which had passed their required retention periods.

○ The State Imaging Center scanned 256 rolls of microfilm and 1,978,237 documents for state agencies, including the Legislative Service Office, Secretary of State, Public Service Commission, State Hospital, and Probation and Parole; 1,621,999 of these images were added to the Digital Archives. Of the 584 cubic feet of paper scanned, 59% were removed from Records Center shelves and securely destroyed. The remaining 41% were uploaded to each agency’s digital files.

○ The State Archives served 5,155 research patrons: 1,738 in person, and 3,417 by phone, fax, snail mail and email. 2,197 of these were from Wyoming. The rest hailed from nearly every U.S. state and eight countries. Our most common queries (1,156) are for school transcripts, as well as court case files (divorce and probate) and vital records. Use by landmen picked up again this year. Significant research topics included Wyoming women’s suffrage, the Civilian Conservation Corps, Cheyenne’s history, World War II POW camps in Wyoming, historic chuck wagon equipment, an unsolved murder from 1911 and the first (and only) NFL game played in Wyoming.

○ Online access to digital collections: We added 72 finding aids to the Rocky Mountain Online Archive, linking digital content such as our World War I collections, We added 1,195 images to our LUNA photograph database, bringing the total to 37,568. And we added 558 oral history interviews, increasing that online content by 25%.

○ Staff, interns, and volunteers mounted exhibits on the WWI Armistice, gubernatorial inaugurations, the Capitol building, women’s suffrage, and Wyoming women’s political firsts.

○ We added 15 new historical collections and 600 cubic feet of archival records of which 69% came from county courts and school districts. Over half of the new state agency records came from retiring Governor Mead’s office; the rest were new accessions from nine state agencies.

○ Records Management analysts had 2,176 contacts with state agency and local government staff this year, including 56 phone/in-person RIMS database training sessions. This is the first year we’ve tracked this statistic.
• Records management staff inventoried all 44,000+ boxes in the State Records Center, the first time such an inventory had been completed in nearly ten years. Due to these efforts, and being fully staffed, we have a more reliable shelf count, and moved from an alarming 1.8% of our shelving space available at the end of 2017 to 6.6% open shelving today. We hope that this, and a reduction in incoming non-permanent paper records will provide some relief for the Archives side of the house, which is 93% full.

• Archives staff gave 13 in-person and online presentations to state agency staff, Wyoming Municipal Clerks and Treasurers, members of the general public, and archivists across the country. Topics ranged from transparency in government recordkeeping, to researching your historic home, and the development of the Archives’ function-based records schedules. Seventy state agency staff attended our new RIMS training series, beginning with the basics of using the RIMS database, as well as a popular building tour. The online presentations were under the auspices of the National Association of Government Archives and Records Administrators, and the Society of American Archivists. For Archives Month, Digital Archivist, Cindy Brown presented a well-attended workshop in Cheyenne on caring for your personal digital records. Oral historian, Barbara Bogart, conducted two sessions of her workshop, “Doing Oral History in Your Community,” in Thermopolis and Gillette, sponsored by the Wyoming SHRAB.

This resulted in 12 schools, comprised of 15 teachers, and 330 students, hosting local competitions and eight competing at the state level.
  o The Arts Council awarded 10 fellowships in creative writing, visual arts, and performing arts. These funds are used to help artists develop their artist output, adding economic and social outcomes for Wyoming communities.

○ OWSA participated in the Jackson Wild Science Festival in Jackson, Wyoming, where we provided educational archaeology-related activities to more than 2,500 students over the course of two days.
○ OWSA gave at least 3 presentations to different archaeology-related groups reaching around 240 people across Wyoming.

We also received a request from Governor Gordon’s staff for advice on managing their files, both paper and digital.
  - The Wyoming Digital Archives provides agencies a way to preserve and manage their electronic records. The State Archives staff this year updated our Guidelines for the Creation and Preservation of Digital Files which provide best preservation practices to state agency staff for saving and accessing their long-term records. The State Imaging Center scans state agency records for digital preservation. We also consult with local government staff on preserving their digital files, including an increasing number of county clerks choosing to join the Digital Archives.
  - Records Management: The “Archival Review” function of our records retention schedules allows us to determine if non-permanent records have long-term value and should be transferred to the Archives for preservation. Since 2016, we have outsourced the microfilming of all of Wyoming’s local newspapers onto 35 mm master negative silver halide preservation microfilm.
